The following was sent to the KYAE listserv.

KYAE Math Matters distribution list

Does math matter to you?

Are you always seeking new resources and exploring ideas on how to help your students better grasp math concepts?

If so, then KYAE Math Matters may be for you!

Through Gayle Box's involvement with math PD, she comes across some very helpful and interesting articles, resources, videos, websites, etc., pertaining to math instruction. She would like to share these resources with any and all KYAE instructors interested in receiving them.

If you're interested, simply join the new KYAE Math Matters distribution list. The mailings won't be daily or even weekly, just whenever she finds – or someone sends to her – something she thinks would benefit the group. Whatever is sent out to the list, will then be archived on the new KYAE Math Matters blog for easy access. Or, you might want to make a KYAE Math Matters e-mail folder and file the messages. The first mailing will be next week. You may opt into or out of the list at any time; just send Gayle the following information about yourself at gayle.box@ky.gov.
